Harlow marathon runner saw the 'best and worst of humanity' at scene of Boston bomb blast

A HARLOW runner has spoken of his "shock and confusion" after being caught up in the aftermath of the Boston Marathon bombings.

of the Boston Marathon bombings.
Andy Kinney (44), of Holmes Meadow, was nearing the end of the 26-mile course when the two blasts went off, killing three people and injuring hundreds more.
The Harlow Running Club member described a state of "total confusion" as runners were given conflicting reports of the horror unfolding near the finishing line, with some even being told to carry on because race organisers had set on because race organisers had set up an "alternate course".

"Snatches of overheard conversa-tions suggested that there had been explosions, but I convinced myself that since runners weren't being stopped that talk of bombs must be somewhere else or, more hopefully, that I had misheard," he told the

"However, a couple of other run-ners came through saying to keep going, stay strong, and that the organisers had set-up an alternate finish. It was very confusing.

The software developer, who has also taken part in the London, Berlin, New York and Chicago marathons, decided to keep running.

"Still in denial, I approached mile 25, which is when it became obvious with the steady stream of runners heading in the opposite direction, many in tears, that whatever had occurred was catastrophic," he nad occurred said.

"Very close to Fenway the police had erected barricades across the course preventing any further progress, but attempts to gain any information were rebuffed with indications that we were rebuiled will indications that we should simply head away from the area. "There was no admission as to the exact nature of the incident causing the race to close down, although numerous locals shared information with me."

It has since emerged that the bombs – ball bearings and nails contained within pressure cookers and concealed in rucksacks – were constructed to cause the maximum number of casualties.

Fearful that more devices could be triggered by mobile phone, the authorities were quick to shut down

"Along the way I started to receive text messages, but my attempts to send out a "I'm safe" message failed," he said.

"I was getting cold, but I didn't know whether to head towards Downtown and my hotel, or towards the baggage trucks to get some warm clothes.

"I decided to follow the crowd tak-ing a parallel path to the race route in the hope of reaching my hotel."

As he made his way through the throng, Andy said he was struck by the "incredible" response of race marshalls, Boston residents and emergency services personnel.

"I have to say that the race organ-isers did a brilliant job for those who had yet to finish," he said. "An impromptu table with foil blankets had been set up on a side street away from the incident, and marshalls were helping runners find the baggage trucks.

Cheerleaders jumping for joy

YOUNG Harlow cheerleaders leapt into second place at a prestigious national competition after wowing judges with their "energetic and professional" routine.

The Galaxy Cheerleading Academy's Shooting Stars, who train once a week at Sumners Leisure Centre, were "ecstatic" after securing a runners-up spot at the British Cheerleading Association's National Championships in Shropshire. Claire Eels (40), whose two daughters - Charlotte (8) and Lucy (5) are part of the squad, said: "There were so many tears of happiness when the team were announced in second place.

"They've all worked so hard and, amazingly, it's only their second competition. "Everyone was over the moon - the kids are just amazing."

Coached by Katie Alman and Samatha Bond, the group are currently looking for new recruits.

"Householders were coming out on the street to offer snacks, the use of their phones, or whatever comfort we needed. It was definitely a time when you witness first hand the best in humanity."

But it wasn't until he reached his hotel that Andy realised the full scale of the tragedy.

"In my room I turned on the TV and was greeted with the horrific scenes at the finish line.

"It was surreal - I had been in the race, but I didn't recognise it."
Despite his experience, Andy said he was determined to continue competing across the globe.

"I don't know how this will affect me - although I'm certain that I will continue racing around the world."

SIR, Why would anyone living in or needing a council house vote

In Harlow there are many hundreds of families needing to move to larger accommodation. The Conservatives are providing that opportunity through Welfare reform, by only subsidising the level of rent appropriate for a resident's needs.

This opportunity to open up council housing to genuine need is opposed by Labour, using their usual mix of lies and smears without putting up a practical solution to solve the housing crisis. They will say to build more council houses. But where will they go - the valued Green Wedges?

Where does the money come from? Labour borrowed more than all the previous governments put together and still failed to build more homes. The last Labour government saw the biggest fall in new social housing since the war – the First World War. In 2004, only 130 council houses were built in England and Wales, compared to the 88,530 in 1980 – under Margaret Thatcher. And why is Labour fixated about building more council houses? Housing associations can build three or four more homes for the same money. Which is more important to Labour - helping more people into a decent home or sticking to party dogma of the last century?

Moving to smaller, more manageable, accommodation should be seen as helping tenants save money, with lower heating bills. Labour would leave you with a big empty house you can't afford – and hundreds of families condemned to cramped living conditions.

the unbelievable total of 13 fixed penalty notices for litter dropping So is it any wonder there is so much litter about the town?

R D Lucia Coppice Hatch, Harlow

Allowances cut would help hard-up taxpayers

SIR, To clear up some comments made in response to my letter about council tax (Star, March 28), everyone has different circumstances and noone should make a judgement about others without knowing all the facts. I do not sit around doing nothing and expecting to be paid, as has been implied. My partner qualifies for help and claims for me as her carer, so the amount is not just for one person but for both of us combined.

It was the Social Services who informed us what we should claim for, as we are both unable to work for reasns that are personal and private. I will also say I am not a young person looking for a meal ticket for life;I am close to retirement age and have worked for most of my life. Getting a job would be very difficult, even if I was able to work at my age. The point of my original letter was to raise an issue that councillors had increased allowances for themselves ahead of important issues that affect residents, no matter what their circumstances.

I note that Labour councillor Mike

Danvers has denied they have increased their allowances and that they get less than £5,000 in expenses (Letters, April 4). I wonder what is the truth, as Conservatives claim they have increased them.

Their expenses are more than some people get to live on. How can that be right? After all, it's the Harlow taxpayers who pay their wages. We are all suffering and struggle to put food on the table, but some of our politicians think they are special cases Instead of increases there should be reductions in their expenses, like many other workers are having to endure. After all, are we not all in this John Caston

SIR, I live quite close to Harlow Common which, going back a few years, was like a meadow used by many people used and which was harvested for hay once a year. For the past few years travellers, have used the whole of the common and are even spreading to verges along Foster Street and Mill Street conducting their business of horse horse on the common was appealing but now there are loads, out in all weathers and chained up so they have a quagmire when wet and a barren group of eaten and trodden patches when dry. It is a danger to walk on for the ruts etc. created by their hooves. The common is now no place for children to play, people to walk or exercise their dogs, because of the dung and the many car and lorry ruts where they run their vehicles either to feed or remove their animals. This is a common for common use. Why are they allowed to spoil the community and not abide by the laws which affect us all.? If I placed an animal there, the authories would make a beeline for me. Perhaps the health of the animals

SIR, In response to the story about the smoker who was fined £700 for dropping a butt, I completely agree that litter louts should be fined as litter is a real blight in our town. However, I must point out that if Harlow Council really wants to find out why there is so much litter in this town it should send one of its officers to follow the recycling collections. I have watched them dropping vast amounts of paper, bottles and cans on the floor when they are emptying our recycling boxes into their own large bins. And do they pick it up? No, they usually just kick it on to our lawns and then move onto the next house. After they leave the streets are a real eyesore, full of litter. While I appreciate that some of the recycling will inevitably be dropped and it is not possible for every single piece to be picked up, a small change in the attitude to show a little respect for the tidiness of our streets, would be much appreciated by local

Birthday girl Edith marks her century

SPRIGHTLY Edith Hurst was the toast of the town when she celebrated her 100th birthday on Sunday, sur-rounded by friends and family.

Born in 1913, the Partridge Care Centre resident has lived through two World Wars, serving her country during the Blitz after volunteering as a fire watcher in the East End.

Her remarkable life was celebrated with two parties this week, with friends and care centre staff presenting her with a cake before family took her out for dinner on Sunday.

Careworker Tracy Livett said: "Edith hasn't been at Partridge very long but she's lived an amazing life, and even though she's 100 she still loves going out and is very active.

"It was lovely to celebrate her birthday here on top of the celebrations she is having with her family. "We're very proud to have someone like Edith staying with us."

Teen burglar walks free from youth court

A 13-YEAR-OLD boy who acted as "look-out" in a Harlow bur-glary in which three Rolex watches and a £23.000 Mercedes were stolen has escaped a custodial sentence.

The youth - who cannot be named for legal reasons - denied burglary and theft of a car from an address in Canons Brook on August 6, 2012 but was found guilty of both offences at Chelmsford Crown Court.

But he has now walked free from Chelmsford Youth Court after being sentenced to a 12-month youth rehabilitation order with supervision and ordered to attend "smart thinking" and reparation programmes. COURT REPORTER

Chair of the bench Mrs Hazel Fox told the defendant: "This was a very, very serious offence. Imagine how it must feel for these people that someone was in their house and took their things."

She also ordered him to pay £250 compensation.

The boy's arrest followed a 999 call by Karen Hayden (41), a neighbour of the victim who spotted the youngster and an accomplice after being woken by her husband's snoring.

She told police that two youths were at a nearby property in Canons Brook, identifying one of them and telling officers where they would find him. When police arrived on the scene, Mrs Hayden and her husband, Richard, directed them from a bedroom window as they searched for the youths

The burglary had taken place at the home of the Ung family, who slept through the incident.

Prosecutor Angela Hughes told the Youth Court that while the stolen car was later found, the jewellery, Rolex watches, and a laptop - worth a combined total of £15,000 - were never recovered.

The victims of the raid were also said to now have "difficulty sleeping and socialising" as a result of their ordeal.

Water firm criticised over flood response

CHRIS MOSS

TRADERS and shoppers have blasted a water firm's "slow response" after a burst pipe caused havoc in a Harlow shopping pre-

Parts of Bush Fair were plunged under 9 inches of water on Thursday morning following the overnight rupture.

But despite the problem being reported to Affinity Water before 9am, it was another two hours before engineers even arrived on the scene.

It then took them until 3.30pm to repair the burst main and drain the water away, by which time several shoppers had fallen in the flood - with at least one being taken to hospital for further treatment.

Several shopkeepers were also forced to improvise barricades to stop the water from damaging their properties, with some complain-ing about the amount of time it took for workmen to fix the problem.

One trader told the Star: 'It was crazy - it had obviously happened overnight but it took the water company hours to sort it. "The water was still YOU think? flowing at midday, and the workmen they eventu-ally sent down diďn't exactly seem to be in a hurry."

Colleen Morrison, who works at MRB Recruitment in Bush Fair, said she had seen one young woman taken to hospital after slipping on silt dis-placed by the deluge. "She was clearly in some pain," said.

'Bush Fair was still undergoing repairs and a clean up three days later, late on Saturday afternoon," she said.

"The water company clearly didn't care - but then why would they when they are very rarely fined when things like this happen?"

But a spokesman for Affinity Water told the Star the firm had acted swiftly.
"We would like to apologise for any inconvenience caused and thank our customers for their patience whilst we carried out those repairs," he added.

Disabilities day to raise awareness

AN awareness drive to highlight support ser-vices available to those suffering from learning disabilities comes to Harlow Leisurezone next week.

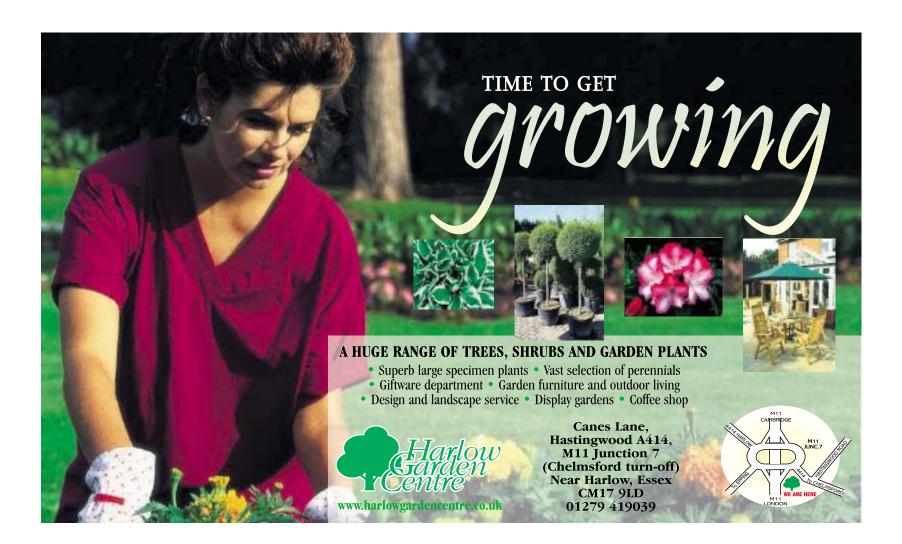

The event, which takes place next Thursday (April 25), will provide key information and advice for anyone interested in finding out more about the range of learning disability support available in Harlow.

Around 40 groups are expected to attend, providing health action plans, advice and screening programmes.

Community nurse Zoe Halliday, who specialises in learning disabiliies, said: "It is our first event and we're really excited about it.

"The event is all about making people aware of the services available to them and how many different people and groups are in Harlow, and Essex, that can help."

The free event runs from 1pm-5pm.

Runner takes on marathon number five preparing for her fifth race as she hits the streets of London this Sunday to raise money for St Clare Hospice. Susan Tweddell, of Staple Tye, has already completed two London marathons, another at Beachy Head in Sussex and a fourth in Barcelona.

The 49-year-old, who works as an IVF co-ordinator at Holly House Hospital in Buckhurst Hill and is also a medical secretary at The Rivers Hospital in Sawbridgeworth, is hoping to raise £700 for St Clare Hospice. Susan said: "St Clare is a local charity and a very good cause. The Hospice does amazing work and offers support for families. "One of my best friends, Deborah Richards, has been training with me but isn't doing the marathon.

"All my friends and family have been really supportive, and I'm really looking forward to Sunday."

The keen runner has been training four to five times a week and has clocked up to 19 miles in her longest training run.

She is hoping to beat her best marathon time of 4 hours and 37 minutes.

St Clare Hospice has 12 runners in this year's marathon, who together are hoping to raise £20,000.

Paralympic runner Noel Thatcher has been on hand to offer the Hospice's runners tips and advice.

HARLOW Craft Group celebrated their first birthday with challenges and cake after humble beginnings in the group founder's living room.

Clare Chanter (40), who owns an online crafts shop, launched the club last year. She said: "We started off with five people meeting in my house and now we have 15 regular members, who enjoy discussing crafts, new projects and organising meet-ups.

The group meets every other Friday at Paringdon Sports Hall. For more information, email threadbarecrafts@gmail.

Event to inspire vouth volunteers

A POP-up shop in Harlow town centre aimed at inspiring youngsters to get involved with their community is finishing a successful week with a bang at the Latton Bush Centre on Saturday.

Youth workers from Essex County Council took over an former optician's unit in Broadwalk to launch the temporary shop, which is open until tomorrow and provides information on community activities.

Saturday's youth event will feature various workshops on dance, fashion and graffiti art as well as competitions and advice stands.

Information and support will also be available from ECC Youth Workers and nurses from South Essex Partnership.

Rugby pals set to tackle mammoth charity mission

BIANCA CASTRO

bianca.castro@hertsessexnews.co.uk

RUGBY-playing pals who both work in the emergency services are preparing to tackle three gruelling charity challenges to celebrate entering their 40s.

Policeman Lee Harron (39) and firefighter Matt Howard (43) will be running the London Marathon this Sunday, climbing the three highest mountains in the UK on May 3 and then cycling L'Alpe d'Huez, Col du Galibier and Col du Télégraphe mountain stages of the Tour de France at the end of June.

The thrillseeking duo are using the gruelling challenges to raise money for MS-UK, a charity which offers support to anyone affected with multiple sclerosis - a degenerative disease of the central nervous system.

Lee told the Star: "I wanted to do something big, a sort of pre-40 challenge and Matt was really interested to do it, too.

"We decided we wanted to do these three things and then looked into how we could do them. "I have a friend with MS and spoke to him about doing

A SPORTS-mad youngster went snooker loopy for his surprise birthday present a private lesson with UK pool and snooker pro Del Smith

The world number 97 - who narrowly missed out on qualifying for this month's World Snooker Championships - took time out from his busy schedule to give nine-year-old Ross Blackshaw expert tuition on improving his game.

Held at Harlow Bowl on Saturday, the surprise session was organised by Ross's grandfather, Jeremy Brent, whose Church Langley-based publishing firm Calco has sponsored Del for many years.

Del for many years.

Jeremy told the Star: "In addition to being a brilliant and dedicated snooker and pool player, Del Smith is one of the nicest guys I've ever met and Calco is genuinely proud to sponsor his career.

"We believe that one day in the not too distant future, Del will be one of the top players in the UK."

Prison warning for child porn pervert

POLICE who called at the home of a Harlow man involved in a minor road accident found more than they bargained for after discovering hundreds of child porn images, a court heard.

Officers went to interview Trevor Dixon (56) at his home in Ladyshot after he crashed his BMW into a parked vehicle.

But once inside his home they discovered pornographic images depicting child abuse and adults indulging in sex acts with animals

Appearing at Chelmsford Magistrates Court on Thursday, unemployed Dixon pleaded guilty to making indecent images of children on two laptop comCOURT REPORTER

puters between October 2010 and August 2012 and making indecent images and possession of extreme pornographic images which portrayed a person performing an act of intercourse with live animals.

The court heard the police officers saw pornographic images which Dixon had printed from the internet. When his computers were later investigated hundreds more images were discovered

Detective Constable John Staines told the court: "Some were printed out and put into photo albums."

Analysis of the two laptop computers seized revealed the other images. There were 659 rated at level one, 39 at level two, 79 at level three and four at level four, while seven portrayed images of sex with animals.

Dixon, who was placed on the sex offenders register, was told he must wait to hear his fate after he was remanded on bail until May 1 for reports.

District judge John Woollard told him: "Before I sentence you I need a full pre-sentence report and I'm not ruling out any options, including sending you to the Crown Court to be sentenced there."

Police warning as fly-tip | New health award scam hits Essex farms | for pioneering work

POLICE have told Essex farmers and landowners to be wary of tricksters illegally dumping rubbish on their land.

The warning follows the discovery of 1,500 tons of household and business waste camouflaged as plasticwrapped hay bales on land in south Essex.

Environment Agency officers are now concerned that other sites across the county will be targeted in the same way.

Investigators believe that the criminals are making huge sums of money by charging to take away the waste before dumping it in rural locations instead of permitted sites.

The rubbish, which is made up of food, paper, cans, and plastic, is compacted into plastic wrapping capable of holding around half a

HEALTH workers and volunteers could scoop a cash prize for their work as nominations open for the first Charles Taylor Pioneer

The £2,000 award will be given to an individual who has made a significant contribution to developing or delivering a health initiative in Essex or Hertfordshire.

Stewards celebrates students' success

140 students and their proud parents attended a glittering awards ceremony celebrating the school's outstanding achievers

Among the winners at the annual event were six former pupils who between them achieved a total of 40 A*s and 54 A grades at GCSE

Elsewhere, the school's prestigious Governors' Awards went to Jasmine Hind (16) for her outstanding academic achievement, Aphra Boittier (16) for excelling in citizenship and Thomas Dowers (16), who was recognised for his excellent contribution to school life over a five-year period.

The event was hosted by former Stewards student Sonia Gill, founder and director of teacher training firm

The ex-pupil, who trained as a teacher and pursued a career in retail with John Lewis before starting up her own company, spoke of the importance of a good education and recalled the time she spent at the Parnall Road school - with spe-

Museum trip brings Victorian era to life

BLOSSOMS NURSERY Youngsters took a trip back in time when they spent a fun-packed day at the Ragged School Museum in the heart of London's Mile End to get a taste of life in a Victorian school.

Staff and youngsters donned bon-nets and flat caps before spending the day learning more about the period - even getting the chance to cook their own meals.

Nursery manager Bobbi Chana said: "The children really enjoyed their very historical day.

"We took a minibus and set off to explore London and learn some more about the Victoria era. The museum helped us find out more about being a child in that period, which was great fun and very interesting.

"Our children loved dressing up for role play and using equipment to wash their clothes and cook just like they would have done if they had been Victorians.

She added: "We like to teach our children new things and make sure that their learning is fun - this was a great way of doing that and everyone had a really good day.

have been received for the inaugural £15,000 Cash for the Community Awards from vol-untary groups in West Essex and East Herts that work wonders to improve the lives of people in their communities.

And with just 11 days to go until the awards deadline, the competition for cash is only going to

To celebrate its 120th anniversary, local funeral director Daniel Robinson & Sons - in association with the Star and Bishop's Stortford Observer – is running the Cash for the Community Awards to shine the spotlight on those who give up their time to help others.

Last week it announced that £5k had been added to the original £10,000 sum courtesy of Central Essex Community

A spokesman for the NHS-related organisation said: "As a social enterprise, CECS has an obligation to return the surpluses it makes back into the community it serves and is keen to support charitable giving, both directly and via its sister charity, A Better Future Ltd.

"CECS is keen to support community groups and the voluntary sector, who have a direct impact in supporting the underlying health and social needs of their patients. Daniel Robinson's Cash for the Community Awards offers a great deal of synergy with these charitable giving objectives.

"In recognition of this, CECS agreed to donate £5,000 in order to increase the amount of funding it has available for its awards in the hope that a greater number

Whether it is raising money, supporting the disabled, extending opportunities to young peo-ple or helping the sick and elderly, family-run Daniel Robinson – which employs 70 people at eight offices, including those in Harlow, Sawbridgeworth, Bishop's Stortford, Dunmow and Epping - wants to honour the fantastic work being undertaken locally which too often goes unnoticed and unrewarded.

Managing director Gary Neill explained: "The Cash for the Community Awards are the final event planned by Daniel Robinson & Sons in celebration of our 120 years of service as a local family business.

"We appreciate the dedication that goes into organising and running local community groups and this is a chance for us to recognise the great and the good in the area for all their hard work.

"Knowing how hard it is for our valuable community groups to continue their good work, we would like Star readers to nominate a local group to receive one of our Cash for the Community Awards.'

Local charities, community groups, school projects, welfare organisations, youth clubs and sporting groups are all eligible to win a share of the £15,000.

Those who would like to nominate their organisation need to tell us what the group does and who it helps, how it is run and funded, how it would use the Cash for the Community money and the impact the cash would have on its members and the community.

The closing date for nomina-tions is Monday April 29. Applications will then be consid-ered by a panel of judges made up of representatives of Daniel Robinson & Sons, the Star and Observer and independent mem-

All the finalists will be invited An the infants will be invited to a glittering awards evening hosted by former Anglia TV newsreader Helen McDermott at Rhodes in Bishop's Stortford on Tuesday, June 4, when the winners will be announced.

Enchanting lament for our lost England

CHRIS MOSS

A PROVOCATIVE paean to a disappearing England takes centre stage at Victoria Hall next week.

Widely regarded as one of the greatest dramas of the 21st century, Jezz Butterworth's Jerusalem has kept audiences across the UK spellbound since its 2009 debut, scooping multiple awards and securing extended runs in both the West End and Broadway.

Now the playwright's tragicomic masterpiece is set to make its Harlow debut in an ambitious new production from am-dram stalwarts Harlow Theatre Company - much to the delight of director Jane Miles.

"I first saw the play back in 2009 and it completely blew me away," she told the Star.

"It's a modern-day classic that somehow manages to be both beautiful and brutal at the same time."

The play tells the story of Johnny 'Rooster' Byron, an eccentric hellraiser who lives in a ramshackle caravan in

A force of nature whose irresistable magnetism attracts a growing legion of disenfranchised teenage disciples, who he entertains with drink, drugs and improbable tales of his daredevil exploits.

But his way of life is not to everyone's taste, and with the local council intent on evicting him and old enemies closing in, matters come to a head on the day of the Flintock Fair.

Jane added: "It raises uncomfortable questions about discrimination and hostility, but is also a lament for a disappearing, magical old England."

•Jerusalem begins a Jerusalem begins a four-night run at Victoria Hall Theatre, Old Harlow, next Thursday (April 24). Performances start at 7.30pm and tickets cost £11 from 0844 8700887 or www.ticketsource.co.uk/harlowtheatrecompany.

Fleet-footed ballet blanc an enchanting spectacle

review

Les Sylphides Harlow Ballet Association Harlow Playhouse

HARLOW Ballet Association's majestic annual showcase began with a splendid performance of Pictures At An Exhibition, set to the wellknown music of Mussorgsky.

The Wagon, the fourth picture, was cleverly suggested by spinning wheels of ribbon, and was followed by The Chickens, in which both Cockerel and Hen (Holly Whittome and Charlotte Taylor) were utterly convincing, while Alana Mansfield as their small chick was simply enchanting.

This was followed by The Jews, featuring James Miller and Samuel Whittome, where man's inhumanity to man was foiled by the intervention of

In Baba Yaga, Emma Jenkins, was splendidly pagan and The Czar and Czarina, (Michael Rees and Catriona MacLeay) looked and moved with regal splendour.

After the interval we were treated to a performance of Seascape. The original music by John Sothcott swept the listener to the coast with snatches of half remembered rhythms that change as you listen, while the dancers moved with the grace we have come to expect from these performers.

After this came the amusing and much-needed light relief of The Sorcerer's Apprentice with Emily Bird, Hannah Mehew and Michael Branwell. I loved the fluorescent water, but feared the stage staff needed a vacuum cleaner at the end rather than Emily Bird's Broom, however excellently danced Finally came Les Sylphides, played magnificently on the grand piano by Chris Redman.

Samuel Whittome danced with the controlled grace and cat-like lightness of foot that we have come to expect from this young man.

It seems invidious to single out any one female dancer in this more than competent ensemble but I must make an exception of the girl with redblonde hair, whose solo was as light as thistledown.

All in all this was a wonderful evening, of which these enthusiastic young people can be rightly proud.

Demented double-act's twisted take on cabaret

HOLD on to your morals - Bourgeois & Maurice are ready to shock the Playhouse with their twisted take on traditional cabaret.

Part-cabaret, part-catwalk freak show, the awardwinning double-act's synth-drenched songs blend unashamedly catchy pop hooks with bitingly satirical lyrics to tackle everything from reptilian conspiracy theories to the eroticization of the finance sector.

One of London's leading cabaret acts, they have performed in some of the UK's most prestigious venues, including the Royal Opera House, Southbank Centre, Wales Millennium Centre and the Royal Academy of

They have also enjoyed sell-out shows at Edinburgh Fringe Festival and toured the music festival circuit. putting on triumphant shows at Glastonbury, Latitude, Bestival, Electric Picnic and Lovebox among others.

Their debut show 'Social Work' (2009) sold out its first run at Soho Theatre and has subsequently been performed throughout the UK, winning them five-star reviews, an Argus Angel Award and a nomination for Best Cabaret Act in the Latest 7 Awards.

The duo also picked up the 2012 London Cabaret Award for Best Music-Based Act

They bring their criticallyacclaimed new show, Sugarts, to The Playhouse tomorrow (Friday).

All thriller, but this is no killer

OLYMPUS HAS FALLEN

Certificate 15, 120m

Antoine Fuqua's testosterone-fuelled thriller contrives a Die Hard In The White House scenario from an assault on Capitol Hill by heavily armed Korean terrorists fed up with America meddling in their affairs.

Overblown action sequences, realised with inconsistent digital trickery, guarantee a healthy three-figure body count in the opening hour.

The chilling centrepiece is a bomber plane flying low over the city, strafing innocent pedestrians before scything the pinnacle off the Washington Monument.

Fugua lights the fuse on the summer blockbuster season with an almighty, ground-shaking bang.

Following a tragedy on his watch, grizzled Secret Service agent Mike Banning (Gerard Butler) is reassigned to a desk job at the Treasury Department.

It's a far cry from his former detail, guarding US President Benjamin Asher (Aaron Eckhart) and son Connor (Finley Jacobsen).

A high-profile visit by the prime minister of South Korea, Lee Tae-Woo (Keong Sim), descends into carnage when terrorists storm the most iconic building in Washington, DC.

The militia kills almost the entire presidential security detail and takes Asher hostage in a nuclear-proof bunker with Vice President Charlie Rodriguez (Phil Austin) and Secretary of Defence Ruth McMillan (Melissa

Without a second thought for his own safety, Mike races to the scene and infiltrates the shattered ruins of the White House, determined to protect the president and atone for past mistakes.

Meanwhile, with the president and vice president indisposed, Allan Trumbull (Morgan Freeman), the Speaker of the House, assumes temporary command, flanked by Secret Service head honcho Lynne Jacobs (Angela Bassett) and highly decorated US Army General Edward Clegg (Robert Forster).

Arriving two months before White House Down, which imagines another terrorist attack on 1600 Pennsylvania Avenue, Olympus Has Fallen is undeniably thrilling with its heavy-handed set-up of one brave man against the odds.

Butler grimaces, growls and flexes his sweat-drenched pecs while spitting out an occasional pottymouthed one-liner.

FILM

But common sense and plausibility are strangers to Creighton Rothenberger and Katrin Benedikt's script.

This is a film in which one man can outmuscle hordes of gun-toting bad guys, withstand bullet and knife wounds, but can't perform a simple computer keystroke combination without explicit verbal instruction.

Olympus Has Fallen is big but it's certainly not clever - a template for exhilarating popcorn fodder.

GARDENING & PUZZLES

Allotments: don't give up!

HIS commitment to show gardens for the RHS Chelsea Flower Show the past two years has meant that garden designer Cleve West's beloved allotment has suffered as weeds have sprung up and slugs and snails have built their own thriving community among his prized vegetables.

While city dwellers may have romantic notions about wandering down to their plot on a balmy summer's evening to admire their crops and pick ripening fruits to add to their organic dinner table, West is much more realistic, 13 years after he took on his west London plot (now expanded to 20 rods - four times the normal size).

"Many have bought into allotments since they became part of the horticultural zeitgeist that seemed to sweep in as the new millennium got

"But what the books don't tell you is that a large proportion of new allotment tenants give up within a year, overwhelmed by the time needed to keep the plot in good shape," he observes as he charts his own allotment

by Hannah Stephenson

experiences in his book, Our Plot.

"Allotments have been billed as something wonderfully romantic, which they can be. But writers often turn a blind eye to the fact that tending an allotment does take up a lot of time and people get disillusioned quite quickly when they do all the initial clearing and then within about three or four weeks it's all weedy again. They didn't see that as being part of the bargain."

So how much time will you need to spend on a plot? "Well, if you're growing food to save money, whatever you do, don't add up the time it takes to produce your own food and apply an hourly rate to it. It will only depress you," he warns.

"The National Society of Allotment and Leisure Gardeners estimates that, for a five-rod plot (250 sq m), a gardener will spend just over 200 hours a year tending it. That sounds about right. We each spend at least one full day a week at the plot and often more during the busy period of sowing and growing between March and July."

When West says a day, he doesn't mean office hours. He's talking at least 12 hours, but it's not impossible, he points out.

"Those who do persevere are often pleasantly surprised to find that allotments are not only about growing food, they are a way of life."

PSYCHOLOGISTS say that moving house is one of life's biggest causes of stress, just behind bereavement and divorce.

Anyone who has ever moved house won't need a psychologist to point that one out but we still put ourselves through it time and time again.

One local family kept stress to a minimum recently when they went on holiday while their house move took place. As the last glassware was packed up, the keys handed over and money transferred, this family were miles away, raising a glass to celebrate Granny and Grandpa's diamond wedding anniversary with their extended family.

No fraying tempers and missing cutlery for them – it was cocktails and canapés instead!

instead! To be fair, it hadn't exactly been planned. Their house sale had fallen through at the last minute and had been rearranged but clashed with their pre-planned family get-together to celebrate the anniversary. Reluctant to say no to their eager new buyers and not wanting to disrupt the celebration, they decided to let the experts take care of the house move. The removal firm packed everything up for them and then unpacked it in their new home, re-assembling beds, unloading cutlery and even putting towels away in the airing cupboard! Yes, it cost them more but they said it wasn't as expensive as they had presumed it would be and, for the stress it took out of the whole business, was well worth it. If you're looking for a removals company, The British Association of Removers (www.bar.co.uk) has a list of recommended companies. Your estate agent may be able to help, too, and some agents supply moving checklists and recommendations for local removal and cleaning firms.

Removal Planning

Despite the effort that goes into preparing a property for sale, many people overlook the impact of good removal planning, and often leave the packing to the last moment. Here are a few suggestions that we hope will help you avoid some of the anxieties many people experience during this exciting but sometimes stressful time:

Don t wait until a buyer is found before getting a removal quote. In the same way that you should choose your estate agent with care, talk to several removal firms before deciding, without having to use the only one available on your chosen day. (We can put you in touch with a reputable firm that offers reasonable rates to our clients)

Friday is the most popular day to move house. However, removal companies tend to get booked up, and if there were to be a hiccup, would they work on the Saturday? Even if they would, the van might have been booked out to someone else and not be available to complete your move easily. So aim to move mid-week if at all possible.

Completion dates are often agreed before exchange. Once you have a tentative date in mind ask the removal company to pencil in the date, subject to . confirmation.

You can save a lot of hassle by getting the removers to pack for you. But watch the quality of packing. Do they just put a pile of plates into a box, or do they wrap each one individually? Will they pack clothes in their existing chests/wardrobes etc. thereby saving space, or would they pack into boxes first, possibly at unnecessary cost?

To be on the safe side, choose a removal company that is a member of BAR the British Association of Removers. Happy moving!

BY MATT KIMBERLEY

YOU could argue that Vauxhall is a bit late to the party when it comes to the fashion-led supermini segment dominated by the triumvirate of the Mini, the Fiat 500 and the Citroen DS3, but the Adam's lateness might just be the making of it.

Buyers in this lucrative part of the car market are looking for something different, and more specifically something they can make their own. With that in mind the Adam comes in four BILLION possible combinations. Which is a lot.

There are around 60,000 different combinations for the exterior and about 80,000 for the inside, but since some combinations aren't allowed for either stylistic or manufacturing reasons, the 4.8 billion theoretical possibilities gets cut back a bit.

As you sit in the dealership you can choose to change more than you can on any other car, like the dashboard finish and colour scheme, the headlining style, coloured clips on the wheel spokes, steering wheel trim colour, door trim colour, front grille cross-member colour, wheel tyle, wheel colour, roof colour, body sticker style and colour. gear lever and handbrake lever finish and then colour, body paint colour, seat fabric type, engine choice, trim level and so until you realise that it's dark and the sales staff have all gone home.

Ultimately there will be 40 styles of wheel alone before you move into wheel colours and clips. Expect the 12 funkilynamed exterior colours like Papa Don't Peach, James Blonde, Buzz Lightgreen and I'll Be Black to be expanded as well. Before too long there might just be an Adam for literally every person on the planet

But if you prefer you can just choose an 'Extreme Pack', which basically gives you a ready-made design built from a combination of the available choices into a cohesive look. The choice is

On more familiar ground there are three trim levels, but none will have any identifying badges so no one will necessarily know whether any individual Adam is the cheapest but still well equipped Jam, mid-range Glam or the sporty Slam.

The engine under the bonnet will stay a secret, too; from a choice of 1.2a nd 1.4 petrols. There's no diesel and there never will be according to Vauxhall. There's just no demand for it in a car this small.

And small it is, based on a shortened and heavily modified Corsa chassis.

The larger engine is much more responsive than the 1.2, which feels a bit dim-witted at times compared to the genuinely sharp and lively character of the 1.4. It

It's easy to drive and easy to enjoy, although on the motorway the revs spin too high and it buzzes along a little out of its comfort zone.

There's not a massive amount of room in the boot. Although it's relatively deep and you can squeeze a surprising amount of soft baggage in, the pinching point where the rear seat backs and the load lip come closest is a bit of a barrier to getting bigger stuff or hard cases in.

Vauxhall hasn't been shy with the equipment on offer but with all models blessed with alloy wheels, a chunky leather-covered steering wheel and colourful interiors the actual equipment you get takes a back seat to the enjoyment and fee-good factor the car gives you. When was the last time automatic windscreen wipers made you grin like a fool anyway? Nonetheless, all the gear you could hope for is available, including a clever touch-screen 'Intellilink' interface that simply transfers your smartphone's main functions to the display.

The Adam might be late to the party but it's learned from its rivals and it moves the game on. Astonishing customisation potential in a great-looking starting package is likely to be a sizeable ace up the Adam's sleeve.

The 1.4 is still lightweight, which gives the Adam a lovely lightweight and nimble feel at the front wheels. It bites into turns as

National Offender Management Service

Working to reduce re-offending, protect the public and make Hertfordshire safer.

Board Members

£15.40 per hour

The future of the National Offender Management Service rests with people like you. People who are passionate about protecting the public, reducing re-offending and helping ex-offenders back into meaningful roles within their communities.

In order to do this in an increasingly challenging and complex world, it takes more than just the right motivation, it takes real leadership and strategic insight, strong financial and people management and the ability to drive change and enhance performance. It also takes an open mind, a commitment to celebrating diversity and, above all, the integrity and business acumen needed to make profound, results-orientated decisions to create our future and turn individual offenders around.

If these are skills you possess and you can offer up to five days a month as a Trust Board Member, applying them here means the opportunity to play a major role in transforming the service and, as a result, making a significant difference to the lives of the people in your community. Financial skills are particularly important in this role.

To request an application pack, please email: human.resources@cppt.probation.gsi.gov.uk or telephone 03000 477028 quoting reference: Board (HPT).

Please visit www.hertfordshireprobation.gov.uk for further details of the Trust's work. For an informal discussion about the role, please contact Delbert Sandiford on 07775 010446.

Closing date: 10th May 2013.

Interview date: 3rd June 2013.

Please note, this advertisement is running jointly with Cambridgeshire and Peterborough Probation Trust and interviews will take place at the Huntingdon offices.

The Ministry of Justice is an equal opportunities organisation and welcomes applications for statutory office holders regardless of ethnic origin, religious belief, age, gender, gender identity, sexual orientation, disability or any other irrelevant factor.

If you are interested in a career in construction then instead of going to College/University why not earn while you learn and gain an impressive qualification and career along the way. We are seeking to recruit a number of candidates for our two bespoke training schemes.

Our 'CareerSTART' scheme offers career training in a variety of job roles including; Estimating, Quantity Surveying, Buying and Architectural/ Engineering. The scheme consists of on the job training with one day per week studying at college to achieve initially a National Diploma in Construction (2 yrs) followed by a Higher National Diploma in Construction (2 further yrs).

Our Management Trainee Scheme offers the opportunity to study to Degree level. Initially time is spent gaining experience in each area of our business, providing an overview of the complete construction process. After the 1st year we offer a role within either our Sales or Commercial teams, together with study on a day release basis to Degree level.

All applicants must be 16+. For Careerstart you must have achieved or be expected to achieve 5 GCSE's (grade C or above) including Maths and English. For Management Trainee scheme you must have achieved or be expected to achieve 2 'A' Levels (grade C or above).

All positions benefit from an excellent remuneration package including, pension, health and life cover, together with a free in-house gym.

If YOU have the dedication to succeed in the world of construction and you are not afraid to commit yourself to training and study, then apply for an information pack and application form by Friday 3rd May 2013

Great start for athletes

HARLOW'S athletes showed that the winter preparations had gone well with some strong performances in this first match of the Eastern Young Athletes League season at Thurrock.

League season at I hurrock.

In the U-13s, Teale Cunningham won the boys' high jump with a leap of 1.40metres; Lewis Harknett won the 800m (2 minutes 33.6 secs); Edward Broad threw an impressive 34.87m to win the A-string javelin and debutant Evan Conboy won the B competition with a 16.51m throw.

There were wins, too, in the U-17s for Will Marklew in the javelin (40.74m) and for Naomi Harryman in the long jump, with an excellent leap of 5.20m.

Apart from the wins there were some notable performances from others too.

Owen Harknett was an excellent second in the U-13 1,500m; Kieran Bull threw a personal best (PB) of 19.99m in the U-15 discus.

Mohamed Tambedou was pipped on the line, so took second place, in an outstanding U-17 100m sprint.

Joe Bailey ran a gritty U-17 400m and claimed second spot.

For the girls, Abbie Campbell performed well in the U-15 100m and 200m and Amy Hunt made the transition from U-15 to U-17 well in the same two events.

Afterwards, coach Steve Lott said: "We're not the biggest team on the circuit but the results show that we have good quality; today was a seven team match and we had a lot of first to third place finishes.

"I know that the coaches were pleased by many of the performances and not simply by those who excelled today. All in all it's been a good start to the sea-

Herculean effort seals silver medal

KYESHA Robinson from Burnt Mill school won a great silver medal in the Hercules Wimbledon Young Athletes meeting at Crystal Palace.

The 11-year-old Burnt Mill School pupil Kyesha was placed second overall and second in her 800m U-13 girls race in 2 mins 40.9 secs.

Her team-mate Megan Caswell, (11), also a Burnt Mill School student, came 5th in the same race.

She was 8th overall in a PB (personal best) of 2 mins 46.4 secs.

In the same event St Nicholas pupil
Mia Hirons (11) was third in her race.

She came 15th overall with a personal best (PB) of 2:54.5. Hollie McArdell, (8), from Fawbert and Barnard School and the reigning Harlow schools cross country Year 4 champion competed in her first ever 600m.

She clocked 2:11 and was 8th from 17 starters in the U-11 age group. Her older sister Alicia, (15), a Mark Hall School pupil, came fifth overall in the U-17 girls 1,500m in 5.09. All athletes were representing Woodford Green with Essex Ladies AC.

Draw for Harlow

HARLOW let a two-goal lead slip when they rounded their East Men's Hockey League division four south east campaign with a 2-2 home draw against Maldon & Little Baddow.

Andy Boughtwood scored twice either side of the break to put Harlow 2-0 up. James Smith set him up for the first and Chris Slack for his second.

However, Harlow's Kyle Plumridge was sin-binned and Maldon exploited the extra man to score.

Maldon scored an equaliser five minutes before the end.

Setback for Rockets as Rebels dominate

RYE House Rockets face an uphill battle to qualify for the semi-finals of the League Cup after suffering a 54-42 defeat at Somerset Rebels on Friday night.

The injury-hit visitors were on the backfoot early on as the Rebels swept to two 5-1s within the first three heats, and could well have made it a hat-trick but for a third bend fall by Stefan Nielsen in Heat 2.

Victories by Tyson Nelson and Olly Allen helped boost Rockets tally, before another home 5-1 when the second placed Nelson suffered a puncture pushed the score

Tactically nominated Anders Mellgren pegged back the deficit alongside Jason Garrity, who came surging from the back, to give Rockets an 8-1 over Tom Perry and Nick Morris in Heat 7, only for the Rebels to

 WITH a new date for their League Cup group finale against Plymouth yet to be agreed following Saturday's rain off, Rockets turn their attention to the Knockout Cup this weekend with a first round tie against Glasgow.

The first leg will be at Hoddesdon this Saturday (7pm), with both sides then hot-footing it north of the border for the following afternoon's return leg at

Duo fly Rye colours in British Champs semis

OLLY Allen and Jason Garrity will be proudly flying the Rye House colours in this year's British Championship semi-final.

Both have been drawn to compete in the second semi-final at Sheffield on April 25 as they aim to reach the British Final which will be staged at Wolverhampton in May 13. While former World

Cup Lion Allen is an experienced campaigner at this level - his last final appearance netted him eighth place in 2010 – it will be Garrity's first outing into the senior event

Garrity has already won the U-15 and U-19 events, and has the opportunity to complete a clean sweep of youth crowns when he rides in the U-21 final – also at Wolverhampton's Monmore Green – two days before the senior semi-final, so it could be a massive week for the 19-year-old.

"I'm just going to go there and try my best," he said. "My main focus will be on trying to win. On the day anyone can

Wheeler in motion for late goal as Hawks make point

THE Hawks virtually secured their division one north status next season by fighting back to stun local rivals Cheshunt in a derby which came alive in the second half on Saturday after-

The result left Danny Chapman's men eight points ahead of bottom side llford with three games to play, so knew they had to lose all three – including a match against Ilford – while the Londoners had to take maximum points.

It had all looked so comfortable for the Ambers after cracking second-half goals from Corey Whitely and Tony Burke.

However, Harlow had other ideas. After a sensational volley from substitute Luke Eatwell, veteran defender Christian Wheeler popped up one minute from the end of normal time to rescue a point for the Hawks.

Wheeler was convinced Harlow would stay up. "I think we will be alright. They HARLOW TN 2, CHESHUNT 2 RYMAN LEAGUE, DIV ONE NORTH

Cheshunt went into the game with little but local bragging rights to play for, but Harlow still had the faint threat of relegation hanging over them, after their 10-points deduction earlier this

The hosts brought a great early save from Ambers keeper Matthew Bennett as he pushed away Joe O'Donoghue's fierce effort from the edge of the box on six minutes.

Josh Cooper blasted an effort over the bar on the run for Cheshunt on 22 minutes as the game became fragmented thanks to the referee's frequent whistle blowing for minor infringements.

The remainder of the half was a turgid affair with neither side looking likely to break the deadlock in the driving rain.

The next chance didn't come until the 46th minute when Mark Twumasi misshit a shot past the left-hand post.

The scoring was finally opened on 50 minutes when Whitley dribbled in from the right and rounded the keeper before firing home.

They doubled their lead five minutes later with another great goal. A loose hall fell for Burke and after taking a touch he curled a superb shot around Hassell and into the net.

Harlow went close on 57 minutes, Piers Wixon rolling an effort wide of the left post.

Courtney White could have extended the visitors' lead with a shot on the slide which flew just over the crossbar on 67

Harlow hit a superb goal back on 75 minutes. Substitute Eatwell hammered a searing volley from the edge of the box into the bottom corner after Max Mitchell headed off his line from a cor-

Then in the 89th minute Wheeler thrust himself forward to launch a powerful header at the back post from a corner, sparking wild celebrations among the players and Hawks fans. TOUCH DOWN: Rob Mackie scores against Wisbech on Saturday strong home form when they host Canvey Island in their last home game of the season.

Gee Wis, it's Rams third straight win!

Harlow approach this Saturday's game in good heart after they notched their third consecutive victory when they beat Wisbech at Ram Gorse five

The convincing win over Wisbech last Saturday got the Rams' league campaign very much back on track.

They scored 37 unanswered points in a devastating first half.

At the Gunpowder Parkrun at Waltham Abbey, Paul Jeffrey-Read finished in second place out of 69 finishers in a superb 18.57, which equalled his personal best time for the distance. He was followed home by Robin Lozeau, 22nd in a PB time of 24.14.

Girls jockey for top Newmarket joy

HARLOW & Bishop's Stortford U-15 girls won 49-22 at Newmarket.

This put the combined team top of the London and South East District A League.

Harlow scored four early tries but Newmarket fought back and at halftime the score was 20-17.

Aimee Jones, Jamie Marshall and Megan Evans made numerous important tackles.

As the game wore on, Newmarket seemed to tire and Harlow remained patient, passed the ball well and scored a further five tries.

The try scorers for Harlow were Megan Evans (6), Katie Boggas and Boggas kicked two conversions. HARLOW U-14s just lost 31-27 at home to Saffron Walden in their final Essex League game.

The hosts suffered a blow when Essex prop Jarod Bates was injured in the warm-up and the home side had an uphill battle after going 19-5 behind in the first half.

Harlow's tries came from Liam Iones (4) and Mason Sharp. Jack Snell kicked one conversion.

Harlow U-17s beat Saffron Walden

In mini rugby, Harlow U-11s came joint third in the Braintree Cup.

In a mini tournament, Harlow U-8s won three matches and drew one.

The Rams beat Billericay 7-3 in their first match and then drew 5-5 with Burnham, before they beat Woodford 9-6 and Upminster 7-5.

Youth teams deliver cricket success

PREPARATIONS for the new season were given a lift by two youth teams from Harlow Cricket Club.

The U-11s and U-13s from the Shepherd Neame Essex League club have both won their respective HECC [Herts & Cricket Indoor Centre League] competitions.

The centre is based in High Wych.

Eleven matches were won and one was lost by the U-13s team who came top of the six-team division.

Every team member made a valuable contribu-tion to the team effort, with everyone taking their turn to excel. Tyler Dobson and Callum

Sykes got 10 and 7 wickets respectively.

Jay Lowles (186) and Harry Burton (178) were the chief run scorers.

Nathan Khelawon (286 Sawbridgeworth came second in this division. Hughes (11 wickets) Meanwhile, the Harlow

U-11s team won all their 13 runs) and Thomas Smithrespectively shone with the bat and ball in this age Stansted and Elsenham were runners-up in the U-11 division. Both Harlow teams were ably supported by their managers, Lorraine Burton for the U-13s and Kevin Prince for the U-11s. Harlow Cricket club spokesman Paul Baxter said: "The club is delighted with the boys and girls achievement.

"Indoor cricket is a very different game from that played outside. It is that much faster but still requiring the same batting, bowling and fielding skills. The enthusiasm and hard work shown by both squads has resulted in them doing so well."

JACKS HATCH GARAGE

Hawks a Phoenix from the flames

BY ALAN SCOTT

CHRISTIAN Wheeler has launched a passionate defence of Hawks much-criticised style of football and believes greater things are around the corner for the underfire club.

It has been a hugely difficult campaign for Harlow Town, especially after a 10-points deduction for financial reasons, but Danny Chapman's men can now look forward to another season in Ryman division one north.
Former assistant boss Wheeler

(33), who hopes to remain at Barrows Farm next season after rejoining in March from Waltham Abbey, says there will be a summer of change at the Essex club before the side launch a crack at promotion next season.

Harlow were assured of their Ryman League status when Potters Bar beat bottom club Ilford on Tuesday, meaning the Londoners cannot catch the Hawks who are eight points clear. And Wheeler believes this experience will stand Harlow in good stead, particularly for boss

Chapman.
"I think Chappo [Danny Chapman] has tried to find the right mix of young kids and people who know this league. It was different this year. It has been hard for Chappo," said Wheeler.
"He will be the first to admit he has leaved more from when things." Chapman.

"I thin

has learned more from when things are tough.

"Anyone can manage when you have a big budget.

"I think we have shown the talent is there. It's a confidence thing. It was the same with the boys at Waltham Abbey. It's hard sometimes when you have got lesser finances and you take on younger "Finances have changed at non-League football clubs in the last five years. Youngsters need the mental strength and application to churn out the performances Saturday, Tuesday, Saturday, Tuesday.

"You are playing at a half decent level and you have to look at it like a second job. You have to apply your-

"The style that Harlow play is a bit old-fashioned but Grays have won the league by 10 points and anyone at the game [between Harlow and Gravs] who knows football – they don't play any differently to us. They just have more experienced players who have been around the block and know how to play non-League football. They just do it a bit better than us.'

DETERMINED: Christian Wheeler

Wheeler is banned for the final three games after his red card at Ware, starting with tonight's game at Wroxham. But he will be cheer-leading from the sidelines at all three games, including Saturday's trip to bottom of the table Ilford, as Harlow look to end a miserable season on a high.

"In the last couple of performances we have shown good character. We cannot feel sorry for ourselves. The boys will learn from this. I remember when I was 18 and left Barnet, I came into the Ryman League and if you took two touches someone would knock you up in the air.

"The Ryman League is 100 miles an hour. You have just got to roll up your sleeves and get out of there.

"The boys are taking a while to adjust but they will come back physically stronger."

Changes afoot to get Harlow back on track

CHANGES are taking place behind the scenes at Harlow Town Football Club as the club bid to get their 'five-year plan' back on track. Christian Wheeler, who returned to the club last month after a spell at Waltham Abbey, is optimistic the club can bounce back from a hugely disappointing 2012-13 season – and has hit back at the people who have savaged club owners Platinum Sports Management after a season of stagnation.

"Things might change now. New opportuni-ties are coming up. Things are going on [behind the scenes] to bring in more revenue and get more people through the door," Wheeler explained.

"I am sure the club will be in a much stronger position next year. I think people are short-sighted. Harlow two or three years ago were a club on their knees looking at the Essex Senior League. I am optimistic. I am a Harlow fan. My first memory is my dad taking me to the Sportcentre."

Wheeler also believes the fans will return to Barrows Farm in the future. Attendances have dropped below 100 for some games this

"Harlow's attendances yo-yo. We had 350 when we were doing well. If the club is doing well next season people will come back. People always want to see winning sides. We need to get the community involved in things to grow.

"Whitehawk have strolled [the Ryman premier division] after paying fortunes – but they are only getting 100 people through the door. The recession has hit everyone.

"People will come back, even if we only get one promotion, then we can kick on again.

"It has been frustrating. People are quick to criticise Tommy [Cunningham] but without Tommy there would not be a football club. We need to change the dynamics and get the community involved more."

Wheeler, who is to become a dad for the first time soon, hopes to be involved in the playing side next season.

"If they want me to stay, I would love to stay. I still want to play but things change in football. If they want me there I will be there. I have played 40 games this year."
